WOOD COUNTY 4-H
 Quilt Square
 TRAIL

Tour historical barns, buildings, and farms throughout the county.

An art installation produced by the Wood County 4-H Program

Welcome

The idea of displaying painted quilt squares on barns to create a "trail" across Ohio's Appalachian region was originally conceived by Donna Sue Groves of Adams County, Ohio. Donna wanted to honor her mother, noted quilter Nina Maxine Green Groves, and celebrate her Appalachian Heritage. The first trail located in Adams County, Ohio became a reality in 2011. Since that time, Quilt Square Trails have spread to numerous Ohio counties and other states in the nation. They attract quilters, barn enthusiasts, agrarians, artists, historians and other tourists.

In August of 2011, Wood County 4-H was inspired by the work of 4-H friends in Greene County, Ohio who have created the first 4-H Quilt Square Trail in the Nation. Because of their encouragement and willingness to share their experiences with other 4-H organize Trail was born.
